Minutes from Previous Meeting

Last meeting we started a new week, thus a new sprint of tasks to complete. We focused on deploying a working application in our meeting and all the steps that would go along with getting it up and running. Benson took on the task of creating the front end with javascript react, in which spencer agreed to help him with such. Luke said he would focus on getting the backend connected to heroku as we were having issues previously deploying the app with that being one of the issues. Asim was tasked with connecting the APIs that we got permission from facebook and twitter into a test environment so that we could easily port them over to the website. Zach was tasked with the heroku environment as we were having deployment issues/ setting up the administrative assignments for the week.
